Engaging Experience 1
Title: Role Play - Who am I?
Suggested Length of Time: 2-3 Days

Standards Addressed

Priority:
- Prepare a written summary of the plot and characters in selected pieces of literature (fiction or nonfiction) written in the target language.
- Analyze the relationship between cultural perspectives and products from the target culture and their own.
- Demonstrate an awareness that the students themselves have a culture, based on comparisons of simple daily activities in the target culture and their own.

Detailed Description/Instructions: After reading a variety of fairy tales and discussing how the character archetypes reflected the feudal society, students will randomly select one of those roles to portray (i.e. the evil stepmother, the king, the peasant, etc.). They will first write out a description of their character that describes its role in society. (i.e. “I am poor, I live on a farm, I have to cook, clean, and buy the bread every day…”). They will then read their clues to the class, and the class will try to guess which role they have selected.

Engaging Experience 1
Title: Simple Past Irregular Forms
Suggested Length of Time: 1 Day

Standards Addressed

Priority:
- Compare and contrast verbal/nonverbal behavior within activities in the target culture and their own.

Supporting:
- Demonstrate competencies previously introduced

Detailed Description/Instructions: In order to become familiar with the irregular simple past forms, students will play a game called “Mini-Flyswatter”. Students will have approximately 40 squares of paper that they will turn into simple past flashcards. On one side of the flashcard will be the irregular German infinitive verb (i.e. “sein”, which means “to be”). On the other side of the flashcard will be the verb’s simple past form (i.e. “war”, which means “was”). After creating and cutting out all the cards, students will spread out all cards on their desk, with the simple past side facing up. The teacher will call out one of the words in the infinitive, and each student will attempt to find the card with the corresponding simple past on their desk before their partner does. Regardless of which partner finds it first, each person will remove their own card from their desk, and keep their own “wins” and “losses” piles. Once all words have been called, the student with the most “wins” has won that round. Then the students will spread out the cards on their desk again, this time with the infinitive verb side up. The teacher will this time call out a simple past version of the word, while the student attempts to locate the corresponding infinitive.

3. What Germans have helped advanced various career fields through inventions, cures, advancements in technology? What greats come from Germany?

Unit of Study Terminology

Assessment Leveling Guide: A tool to use when writing assessments in order to maintain the appropriate level of rigor that matches the standard.

Big Ideas/Enduring Understandings: Foundational understandings teachers want students to be able to discover and state in their own words by the end of the unit of study. These are answers to the essential questions.

Engaging Experience: Each topic is broken into a list of engaging experiences for students. These experiences are aligned to priority and supporting standards, thus stating what students should be able to do. An example of an engaging experience is provided in the description, but a teacher has the autonomy to substitute one of their own that aligns to the level of rigor stated in the standards.

Engaging Scenario: This is a culminating activity in which students are given a role, situation, challenge, audience, and a product or performance is specified. Each unit contains an example of an engaging scenario, but a teacher has the ability to substitute with the same intent in mind.

Essential Questions: Engaging, open-ended questions that teachers can use to engage students in the learning.

Priority Standards: What every student should know and be able to do. These were chosen because of their necessity for success in the next course, the state assessment, and life.

Supporting Standards: Additional standards that support the learning within the unit.

Topic: These are the main teaching points for the unit. Units can have anywhere from one topic to many, depending on the depth of the unit.

Unit of Study: Series of learning experiences/related assessments based on designated priority standards and related supporting standards.

Unit Vocabulary: Words students will encounter within the unit that are essential to understanding. Academic Cross-Curricular words (also called Tier 2 words) are those that can be found in multiple content areas, not just this one. Content/Domain Specific vocabulary words are those found specifically within the content.
